MISSOULA--

A workshop on how to make the best use of insurance will be offered to the public through the University of Montana Center for Continuing Education July 31-Aug. 4 on campus.

The workshop will consist of five sessions that deal with topics of interest to the insurance-buying public. Topics will be social security, life insurance, automobile insurance, homeowners insurance and national health insurance.

Dr. Martin Richards, an assistant professor of risk and insurance at the University of Montana School of Business Administration, will teach the course. He said that no attempt will be made to sell insurance or to influence buying insurance from any company.

The class will meet in the Liberal Arts building, room 103, from 7:30 to 9:30 each evening. Cost is $25 a person.

More information and registration forms are available at the Center for Continuing Education, 107 Main Hall, University of Montana, Missoula, 243-2900.
